Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: On page 5, lines 10, 12 and 13, reference numeral "12" should be replaced with --11--. On page 7, line 20, "1320" should be replaced with --132)--.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: On page 14, line 15, "main" should be replaced with --sub- --. Appropriate correction is required.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Swanson (600).

Swanson teaches in figs. 1-6, three rows of pin tumblers arranged in a curve around the housing 20 with five pin holes arranged in each row as seen in figure 2, and pins 37, 38, 39 within the cylinder 22 and the housing 20, wherein three of these pin holes in each row are regarded as the claimed pin holes, and wherein one pin hole in each row is regarded as a main adjusting hole, and one pin hole in each row is regarded as the claimed sub-adjusting hole. The cylinder 22 also includes a cavity 26 on each side of the pin holes as seen in figure 1, with these cavities being relied on as the claimed main adjusting cavity and the sub-adjusting cavity. The pin blocks also include springs and the top pin which abuts the spring is relied on as the claimed cap of claims 4, 7 and 10.

Swanson also teaches a rotation limiting pin 30 as seen in fig. 6.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Swanson (600) in view of Pechner (480).

Pechner teaches a lid 38 to close a longitudinal recess 40 as seen in fig. 3. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide lids in longitudinal recesses with the rows of pin holes of Swanson, in view of the teaching of Pechner, the motivation being to simplify installation of the pins into the pin holes to assemble the lock.

Claim 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Swanson (600) in view of Jacobi (938).

Jacobi teaches a stub 25 at the front of a cylinder to cooperate with a curved stop 24, 26 of an inner surface of a housing. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to substitute a stub and curved stop for the rotation limiting pin 30 of Swanson, in view of the teaching of Jacobi, since either well known type of rotation limiter would function just as well.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
